

Software Engineer – Mobile Applications (Santa Clara, CA)

Requirements:

- Local Candidates Only
- No Relocation
- No Sponsorship for Work Authorization

You are responsible for design, development and maintenance of mobile applications (Android) for the V2X space. You will need to be an individually motivated multi-tasker and will have to manage project priorities, deadlines and deliverables. You will have to develop algorithms to make data driven decisions in real-time, build libraries and frameworks that support complex cloud based applications and write client side code for web based applications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- BS in Computer Science or equivalent
- Very good analytical skills
- 3 plus years of Java development experience
- Expert Java skills.
- Knowledge of UI frameworks, MVP application design
- Deep technical knowledge of mobile application development
- Ability to develop Android backend services to integrate with cloud services
- Strong foundation in data structures, algorithms and software design optimized of embedded systems

Preferred Additional Qualifications:

- MS in Computer science or equivalent
- Experience working with Android SDKs (Location and Sensors), third-party APIs and data sources
- Experience in iOS a plus
- Any data analytics experience is a definite plus
- Experience with open source cloud platforms - deployed applications a definite plus
- Participation in hackathons and coding challenges a definite plus